[illegible] HOOFLAND'S German Bitters [illegible]

PHILADELPHIA, August 23 1862.

Evans—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been, for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Capt. R. B. Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy-two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the steamer State of Maine, from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as any one could be and still retain a spark of vital[ity] [illegible] I was scarcely able to swallow [illegible] did force a morsel down, it was immediately [illegible] keep a glass of water on my stomach [illegible] under these circumstances and accord[illegible] who had been working faithfully [illegible] to rescue me from the grasp of the [illegible] they could do no more [illegible] to see a clergyman, and to make such [illegible] limited funds as best suited me. An [illegible] visited me at the hospital, Mr. Fred[illegible] below Arch Street, advised me, as a [illegible] try your Bitters, and kindly procured [illegible] time I commenced taking them the [illegible] death receded, and I am now, thank [illegible] better. Though I have taken but two [illegible] gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of [illegible] to my wife and daughter, from [illegible] nothing for eighteen months; for [illegible] loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of [illegible] our invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty [illegible] has taken the place of vague fears [illegible] I owe the glorious privilege of again [illegible] those who are dearest to me in life.

...truly yours, ISAAC MALONE.

The Opposition of Sympathizers.

The journals of the Confederate Democracy are incessantly declaring that the purpose of the Union party of the nation is the overthrow of popular rights and liberty and the establishment of a military despotism. This is the wailing chorus of all their voices—the sad burden of their sorrowful complaints. Perhaps if we did not fully understand that the sole cause of all this outcry was the loss of political position—that they are wrathful because their friends are not in power, we might believe them sincere—even if we were satisfied that they were silly—in their ridiculous demonstrations of anxiety. But when everybody knows that these are all for effect, and only mean that they sympathize with rebellion—because they love treason or because they are hostile to the administration, when, as in duty bound, it seeks to save the country—their conduct is seen to be wicked to the last degree. They know that Union men love the institutions of the land, and have nothing to gain by their subversion; that every American citizen who is not in favor of the Confederacy seeks only to maintain our national integrity on the best and surest foundations, and that all the pretences of demagogues and traitors to the contrary are shallow lies for the purpose of deceiving the ignorant and the credulous. They know, as every intelligent man does, that if the administration has done some things of questionable expediency, perhaps even of doubtful constitutionality, yet it has been controlled in all its important actions by an earnest and anxious devotion to the cause of nationality and free government, and in most material matters has manifested a spirit of energy and of wisdom which will secure to it the approbation and the gratitude of all coming generations, even if, through political hostility and misrepresentation, it should now be abused and suffer present popular defeat. The history of the present is only a repetition of that of the past. No bold and decided action of any administration was without condemnation on the part of some who lived under it; and this was the more bitter in proportion as the action was more energetic and extraordinary in the judgment of those who opposed it. But "time at last sets all things even." The very deeds which, when done, seemed most dangerous to popular liberty under our constitution, are now the special shining merits of those who performed them, because the developements of time proved that they were necessary to the salvation of the country; and the seeming unconstitutionality has been forgotten in admiration of the courage and sagacity which dared to save the nation in spite of rigid technicalities and narrow constructions. So it has been in regard to many of the proceedings of the early Presidents, which at the time were denounced as tyrannical and unconstitutional—so we believe it will be in the future in regard to what now is condemned as unauthorized and despotic. Those who come after us, while they spurn and despise the names of men who oppose the Government and sympathize with rebellion, will gratefully pay homage to the memory of the loyal defenders of the Union, who in spite of all theories and speculations stood firm and strong for its protection, resisting in every possible manner the encroachments of slavery and lawless tyranny.

COMMUTATION.—The Judges of the Supreme Court at Portland, Maine, in answer to points submitted by Governor Coburn, have decided unanimously that towns and cities have no legal right to pledge their credit or raise money by taxation to pay commutation for citizens drafted under the conscription act. The mayor of New York has also vetoed the ordinance passed by the city council, which proposed an appropriation of a large sum of money, to pay commutation for those who might be drafted in that city. His objection was that under the charter the council had no power or right to appropriate public money to be expended for procuring release from individual duties or liabilities.

LINN COUNTY MILITIA.—The Democrat says that the citizens of Albany and vicinity met at the court-house on the 23d ult., pursuant to the request of the enrolling officer, and organized a company of militia. The following gentlemen were elected officers of the company: John Rowland, captain; A. Hannon, 1st lieut.; S. E. Young, 2d lieut.; Jas. Elkins, orderly sergeant; R. Fox, 2d sergeant; Wm. Tweedale, 3d sergeant; J. W. Jordan, 4th sergeant; John Purdom, 1st corporal; John Foster, 2d corporal; E. N. Beach, 3d corporal; N. Wright, 4th corporal.

The steamer Brother Jonathan arrived in San Francisco on the 28th of July, with $143,315 in treasure.

THE OHIO COPPERHEADS.—The soldiers are very indignant at the Copperheads for nominating Vallandigham. A letter from an Ohio private, at Fairfax Station, Virginia, contains some pointed remarks. He says: "The Copperheads at home have insulted the soldiers who are in the field enduring privations and risking their lives in defense of this great nation's life. They have had the audacity to nominate Vallandigham for Governor, a man who, while a member of Congress, refused to vote men and money for the purpose of saving the country; a man who has been uttering treason ever since the traitors first fired upon Fort Sumter. This is the man the so-called Democrats have nominated to be the successor of the patriot Democrat, Tod. Has it then come to this, that the Democratic party favor disunion and slavery? Have the Democratic party of Ohio consented to the overthrow of the great Democratic doctrine of self government? But the people of Ohio will rise en masse and rebuke them. The blood of the slain in this great contest of freedom will cry out from the hills and valleys of the South and rebuke them; the thousands of maimed and sick soldiers will rebuke them. They will be rebuked by all lovers of freedom, liberty and justice; for treason cannot, will not live in this land of Washington. I say to you sir, that I would rather shoot the man who, while his country is bleeding at every pore, remains at home and utters treason, than the armed rebel in the field; and so help me God, the man who utters treason in my presence when I return from this contest, if it please Providence to spare me, shall be met and answered as he deserves. I fear no death on the battle field fighting for my country, but why should I be insulted at home by these cowardly Copperheads? These are my sentiments, and I believe I have the right to utter them, after having fought in seven hard-fought battles for this, my poor, bleeding, but beloved country."

JOHN BIGLER ANSWERED.—Bigler said before the California Democratic State Convention:

Put your finger upon a single syllable that has ever been authorizedly issued by the Democratic party, that can by all the torture that may be applied to it be construed into hostility to the constitution, to the Union, to this government or to civil liberty, and I will own that I am in error.

To this the Bee replies:

The Democratic party of the South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi, Texas, North Carolina, Virginia, Arkansas, Florida and Missouri, in State Conventions assembled, declared against the Union, and in opposition to the constitution, making a constitution of our own instead of that left us by our fathers. The Democratic party, in the Congress of the United States and in National Convention, declared for slavery in the Territories, which is deemed to be "in opposition to civil liberty." The Democratic party of the entire South have taken up arms to overthrow the constitution and destroy the Union. The Democratic party of California—that same Democracy of which you, sir, are now a candidate—declared no longer ago than last year—repeating the resolves of the previous year—that they were "in favor of recognizing the Southern Confederacy if an adjustment acceptable to both sections could not be agreed upon." That same Democracy of which you, sir, are now a candidate, proclaimed also, at the times mentioned, that they were "opposed to the government coercing the revolted States into submission to the Federal authority."

BEGINNING TO UNDERSTAND THEIR POSITION. A late Richmond Whig says:

Day by day the track of the destroyer becomes broader. Two-thirds of Virginia, two-thirds of Tennessee, the coasts of North and South Carolina, part of Georgia, nearly all of Florida, Northern Mississippi, Western and Southern Louisiana, and the greater part of Arkansas and Missouri, have already been laid waste, and every hour brings tidings of fresh destruction. * * * Our butcheries and our admissions of the weakness or imbecility of our forces in the field, but add to the hellish fury of our foe, without stimulating troops, Government or people to the pitch of retributive vengeance. The belt of desolation widens hourly, nor is there much prospect of an abatement of the evil. Citizens complain of the Government, which in turn complains of the citizens. * * *

The belt of desolation serves many purposes of the Yankee nation. It opens a way to free labor, and concentrates Southern population within limits inadequate to their support; it prepares a place for Yankee emigration if peace on the basis of separation is declared. But this is not all. It answers the purposes of war as well as peace, by interposing a country destitute of supplies between our own and the Yankee border. Thus it is a safeguard against invasion. If Lee would advance, he must move through a desert, dragging immense trains of food behind him. The case is the same with Bragg, with Johnston, with Price.

A SOLDIER'S REBUKE OF A GROWLER.—A professional growler was going on about the war in a hotel, a few weeks since, criticising everybody and everything, and denouncing our generals as blockheads and blunderers, when a young soldier, to whom the conversation was principally addressed, replied:

This war has done one thing, at least. It has developed more military genius than any other war in history. Why, there are men in every village in the North, who, with their feet cocked upon the stove, a cigar in their mouth and a gin cocktail in their hand, will fight a better battle in ten minutes than was ever fought by Cæsar or Napoleon. I have no doubt there are those in this room who can capture Vicksburg and Charleston while a man is tying on a cravat, march into Richmond in forty seconds, and put down the rebellion in half an hour. Halleck, Hooker and Grant are good enough as far as they go, but they have no military genius. To find that, you must come North and mix among the bar room and fireside heroes.

The grumbler did not say anything more.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN.

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to July 30th.

CINCINNATI, July 29.—A Lexington (Ky.) telegram says the rebels attacked our forces at Richmond (Ky.) and after an hour's fighting the latter were compelled to fall back to the Kentucky river—badly cut up. The rebels are said to number 2,500, with six guns. At latest advices our troops were within five miles of Lexington; rebels closely following. Martial law has been proclaimed and all able-bodied citizens are ordered to report for duty. Rebel citizens report a rebel force of 15,000 troops marching in a northern direction, via Crab Orchard.

A later dispatch says that the Federal troops are rapidly concentrating, thus insuring the safety of Lexington.

FORTRESS MONROE, July 28.—The Richmond Enquirer of yesterday has the following:

ATLANTA, July 23.—Rosecrans is organizing a force to attack the Western Georgia Railroad. Active preparations are being made to defend the city and railroad to Chattanooga.

MEMPHIS, July 22.—Jackson advices to the 19th say that Sherman's army left for Vicksburg after the entire destruction of Jackson. The State house and Governor's mansion are the only buildings left standing.

CINCINNATI July 29.—A rebel force of 1,500 entered Winchester (Ky) this morning, moving north. A considerable force are threatening Paris.

CAIRO, July 29.—A Jackson letter dated the 20th says, Col. Bussey, chief of Sherman's cavalry, has just returned from an expedition to Canton, at which place he met 4,000 rebel cavalry, and drove them across the river after a severe engagement. Our forces then destroyed the railroad bridge over the Big Black, a mile of trestle work, six miles of railroad, five locomotives, fifty cars, thirteen large manufacturing establishments, and destroyed a large amount of property of immense value to the Confederacy.

CINCINNATI, July 30.—Yesterday morning Pegram and Scott's forces, numbering 2,500, left Richmond (Ky.) and marched to Paris, where they arrived in the afternoon and attacked our forces. After a few hours' fighting the rebels were repulsed and driven away. It is thought they will make a flank movement upon that place. A large cavalry force of Union men is in the rear of the rebels. It is believed the movement against Paris is for the purpose of destroying the bridge there.

NEW YORK, July 30.—A dispatch to the Times gives the following, dated Army of the Potomac, July 29:

This army to-day practically occupies the same line it did two months ago. The recent active movements must necessarily be followed by a period of comparative inaction, during which time it will be recruited and recuperated. For the next month the cavalry will do the fighting.

As before stated, Longstreet's and Hill's commands, after passing through Chester's, not Thornton's Gap, encamped between Culpepper and Gordonsville. Ewell's command covered their flank and rear by guarding the Blue Ridge passes. The bulk of their corps is now moving down the valley. Detachments threaten our lines. Yesterday morning at two o'clock our pickets were driven in near Canaville. The indications are that our outposts are liable to be forced in at any moment by superior numbers of the rebels. There is but little sickness. The men are more liberally supplied with rations than ever before. This, taken in connection with the recent successes of the Union forces, creates general good feeling in the army. A large number of officers have been detached to bring in the drafted men.

CINCINNATI, July 30.—After a repulse at Paris Pegram retreated in the direction of Winchester, closely followed by our cavalry. Several prisoners were taken.

CAIRO, July 30.—Everything is quiet in the Helena region. Scouts report that Price, Holmes and Marmaduke have gone to defend Little Rock, which is in danger from Blunt. Guerillas are still marauding in West Tennessee, doing considerable damage.

VICKSBURG, July 26.—Johnston is believed to be making for Mobile rapidly. Sherman is encamped on the Big Black. Considerable sickness prevails there on account of the hot weather. It is believed that General Herron's division has gone to Mobile, via river.

NEW YORK, July 28.—Rebel steamer Merrimac built by the British, was captured by the gunboat Iroquois while attempting to run the blockade off Wilmington.

The Charleston Mercury of yesterday, speaking of the late attack on Fort Wagner, admits that our forces held their position in front over two hours under a galling fire. The account says the bombardment was terrific—our men being amply protected by bomb proofs.

NEW YORK, July 28th.—Schooner Mason, from Port Royal, reports hearing heavy firing as she passed off Charleston, on the 26th.

CINCINNATI, July 29th.—John Morgan, with the officers who were captured with him, arrived here last night. One hundred and fifty six of his officers, who had been confined several days, have been sent to Fort Johnson, Lake Erie.

California News.

MARYSVILLE, July 31.—Yesterday was the occasion of a large mass meeting and barbacue by the Democracy of Yuba, Colusa, Sutter and Butte counties. The attendance was large, being variously estimated at from 3,000 to 5,000. Speeches were made by Hon. Tod Robinson, Ex-Govs. Weller and Bigler, J. M. Coffroth and N. G. Whitesides. The barbacue supplied the multitude with ample food, and everything passed off quietly. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed.

In the evening a long torchlight procession paraded the streets, headed by Chris. Andre's San Francisco Band, and followed by a cavalcade of horsemen bearing transparencies of various patriotic devices. The procession halted at Washington Square, where they witnessed a brilliant display of fireworks.

Arrangements had been made for speaking in the evening on Second street, in front of the Western Hotel, and as soon as the fireworks were over, the crowd proceeded thither, securing every eligible position on either side of the street. So great a number crowded on the balcony around the building opposite the hotel and over the Telegraph and California Stage Co.'s Office, that its supports suddenly gave way with a terrible crash, precipitating the whole mass into the street. A Mr. Sharp of this city was instantly killed, and between thirty and forty seriously injured. The balcony at the time was occupied by about one hundred and fifty people including thirty or forty women and children. Two women are reported dead this morning, from injuries received, and it is probable that some others will not recover. After the falling of the awning, a scene of the direst confusion ensued—men rushing to and fro, mingled with the screams of children and shrieks of women.

The old Shakesperean saying of "carrying the war into Africa" has been amended. It is now "carrying Africa into the war."

GEN. WISE'S WIFE IN WASHINGTON.—The Sacramento Union says "gentlemen in high official position assert that the wife of the rebel General Wise has recently paid a visit to Washington, and that while there she succeeded in securing the exemption of certain property which belonged to some of her relatives from confiscation."

Mrs. Partington declines taking any stock in the Atlantic Telegraph. She thinks that joint stock companies always get into debt, and so it is doubtful if they can pay out their cable. Besides it would not surprise her to hear at any time that the cable had gone to the bottom.

Expectorant without Opium.—DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM claims the favorable attention of those whose constitutions forbid the use of Opium or Morphine. This astonishing remedy for CONSUMPTION and Lung Diseases, has received the strongest testimonials from citizens of the highest respectability, and is richly worth a fair trial.

In Every Age of the World, the professions have been slow to admit the value of new discoveries, or the expediency of adopting them in practice. It is not to the legal profession that we look for reforms in jurisprudence, neither do we find the advocates of medical reform among physicians. Each deprecates whatever is found to innovate upon received opinions and established usage. Hence the opposition which medical men too often exhibit to the use of private remedies, whatever their acknowledged value, or great efficiency in the cure of disease. No medicine has ever done more for the relief of human suffering than DR. OSGOOD'S INDIA CHOLAGOGUE. The certainty with which it cures Fever and Ague, and eradicates bile from the system is acknowledged by all. Do you prefer a speedy and effectual cure to a regular and scientific run of disease? Try the Cholagogue, and the object is accomplished. Then tell your suffering neighbor what it has done for you, that it may do the same for him.

THE CAMELS.—Mr. Whitley last even brought down from Carriboo, via Victoria Olympia, two very fine African camels. Th are at present quartered in Bennett & Qui by's stables, and will be exhibited to the p lic this morning at 10 o'clock. We und stand that these are two of a cargo impor from Africa to California, some years ago. a speculator, with the intention of using t for carrying goods to the southern mines. appears, however, that they failed to real the anticipations and profits contemplated the enterprising projector, who thereupon f warded them to Carriboo, where they now used for packing purposes. Each these patient animals is capable of carryi from 400 to 600 pounds of freight for days gether, without fatigue. To those who h never seen these "couriers of the desert" th will be great curiosities.

JUSTICES' COURTS.—There have been cases of public interest tried at either of t courts during the past week.

THE WEATHER yesterday was exceeding pleasant and bracing. Though the mornin was very cool, yet the thermometer in t evening at four o'clock indicated nearly 8 in the shade.

THE STEAMER Julia (which takes the plac of the Hunt for a short season), brought gold dust worthy of mention to Wells, Farg & Co. last evening, on her arrival from t Cascades, though we understand there was considerable quantity in private hands.

COPARTNERSHIP.—We notice that Mr. Joh Nations is admitted as partner in the firm Jones & Co., Oregon Iron Works. Mr. N is well known as an excellent machinist, an possesses a thorough and practical knowledg of the business in all its branches.

THEATRICAL.—The drama of "Fraud an its Victims, or the Poor of London," was an nounced for representation at the theater la evening, but owing to the severe illness Miss Mitchell, who should sustain the princ pal lady character in the play, the perform ance was postponed. We sincerely hope th sudden indisposition of Miss Mitchell will n long detain her from her important duties.

THE SECESSION ELEMENT IN BALTIMORE— HOW PIOUS REBELS BEHAVE AT PRAYERS.— Baltimore correspondent of the Philadelphi Press says that in the churches of Baltimor many persons remain at the doors of th churches on Sunday until the prayers for th President have been recited. He adds:

I am informed that it is no uncommon thi for worshippers either to go out during th recital of these prayers, or to show their co tempt by refusing to assume the devotion attitude which various denominations adopt peculiar to prayer. On Sunday I visited t great Cathedral of Bishop Kendrick, not b cause of any expectancy to witness a demo stration such as I speak of, but more throug curiosity, having remembered hearing th prelate when he was Bishop of Philadelphi The aristocracy of Catholic Baltimore co prise principally the congregation of the C thedral. It may be here stated that the arch diocese of Bishop Kendrick includes all Virginia, as well as Maryland, and the cit of Richmond is as much his home as the city of Baltimore. No disloyal sentiment or sym pathy has ever been imputed to Bishop Ken drick. On the contrary, he is known to giv the Government his hearty suppor, and, if is not expressed publicly, it is certain that sympathy with the rebellion has never bee expressed at all. He is certainly in an anom alous position, and as a faithful shepherd ove a loyal and disloyal flock, he has steered hi course in such a way as to give no offens politically, to either. He never neglects however, to recite the prayer for the suprem authorities, and long ago instructed his priest to do likewise. It would be well if his con gregation manifested the same spirit.

On Sunday this venerable old man preache at the Cathedral. He was full dressed in th canonical robes of his office, his head gre with years, but his voice and manner bearing all the vigor of early manhood. He com menced to read off the prayer, the whole con gregation devoutly kneeling: "We pray thee, oh God, that thou wilt bless all those that live on earth in sin; that thou wilt bless the holy Church; give strength and power to our holy Father, Pius IX, that he may prevail over al his enemies; and we would pray thee " at this word, up started from their knees many apparently the most devout, the silks of th ladies rustling, and their resplendent jewelry reflecting by its movements in the light from the windows, as they rose from their knees to assume a sitting posture. They knew wha this phrase was about to commit them to, for they had often heard it before. The voice of the Archbishop continued, "that thou wouldst bless the President of these United States; give him strength and wisdom to direct the affairs of the nation," etc.

The prayer proceeded to invoke the blessing upon the Governor of Maryland, and then resumes, "We pray for the souls of the faithful departed." At this, the whole congregation are again upon their knees, and so remain until the close. It is due to say that the insult thus offered was confined to the most aristocratic of the ladies. The humbler of the congregation, and the males generally, continued upon bended knee from the beinning to the end. Whether this scene has ever occurred before, or whether, if it has, the Archbishop has ever rebuked it, it is not possible for me to say. With such open and flagrant insults in the public places of worship, is it any wonder that the rebels should count upon a cordial reception upon their approach to "My Maryland?"

LOOK OUT.—Large quantities of debased coin are in circulation in the East. The debasing process most in vogue consists in splitting the pieces in halves, hollowing the two parts, filling the hollows with some heavy metal and then skillfully reuniting the halves and remilling the edge. This process is said to have originated in California.

VOLCANIC ERUPTION.—The Victoria Chronicle says that Mount Baker was in a violent state of eruption on Saturday, July 25th.

DR. D. JAYNES'
EXPECTORANT
AND SANATIVE PILLS

HAVE BEEN BEFORE THE PUBLIC SO LONG, and so universally used in every region of country where they have been sold, (and there is no place on the civilized globe where they have not been sold) that it would be useless at this time to attract attention to them through the columns of the press. Yet it is due to suffering humanity, and especially to that numerous class who, in the changeable climate of the Pacific Coast, suffer from inducing and ending in CONSUMPTION, many of whom may not have used this remedy, that they should be allowed to read of some of the cases where its influence has been useful in removing complaints from which they are suffering. The EXPECTORANT

Operates Immediately upon the Disease,

SURELY AND SPEEDILY ERADICATING IT,

while the SANATIVE PILLS, by preserving regularity in the bowels, and giving a healthy tone to the other internal organs, aid and assist the perfect operation of the former.

Attention is asked to the following Certificates, selected at random from the mass in the possession of the proprietors:

UPPER UWCHLAND, Chester Co, Pa, Sept 15, 1858.

Dr. D. JAYNE—Having been afflicted with ASTHMA and BRONCHITIS, and having the advice of some of the most eminent physicians, whose skillful treatment of my case did not prove to be of any avail, I obtained no relief for my suffering until I commenced the use of your EXPECTORANT. After taking it for about three months, I was entirely cured.

NATHAN PENNYPACKER.

ASTORIA, Long Island, Jan 15, 1860.

L. W. TESTEAL, Esq. New York—Sir: As you well know I had been afflicted with BRONCHITIS, accompanied with the most painful tightness of the chest, and great difficulty in breathing for nearly two months, and I had almost lost all confidence in the power of medical science, when at your friendly suggestion, I began the well known and not enough known "EXPECTORANT" of Dr. Jayne, of Philadelphia. Three or four days after having commenced to take it, my cough had nearly subsided, the expectoration was easy, and the breathing quite free.

I am now quite another man, and my general health has never been better.

I remain, my dear Tinelli, with esteem, your servant and friend,

J. B. MONTE.

WINFIELD, Tuscarawas Co, O., May 31, 1860.

DR. D. JAYNE—Dear Sir: One bottle of your Expectorant cured my daughter of the LUNG FEVER, after having been beyond the hopes of recovery. During the attack she had a number of convulsions. She is now perfectly well.

J. H. COFFMAN.

BURLINGTON, Bradford Co, Pa, July 23, 1863.

DR. D. JAYNE—Dear Sir: My son was for one and a half years afflicted with a disease resembling CONSUMPTION. For two years he was not able to labor. He was finally induced to try your EXPECTORANT and PILLS, and after taking 10 bottles and some PILLS, was completely cured, and is now able to labor every day.

JOHN HENRY.

We would add to the above that we sold to Mr Henry the medicine for his son, and know that the statement is true.

DR. BAKER'S PAIN PANACEA.

Is composed entirely of healing gums, and vegetable oils and herbs. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can most sincerely say that I have never known any, however delicate, to be injured by it in the least. I will continue to ask the afflicted, who have not used it, to try it for the following diseases: If they are not satisfied with its healing properties, the money will be cheerfully returned by the Agent where the medicine is for sale.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose of Pain Panacea internally, bathe externally over the parts affected, and you will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound, bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, apply the Pain Panacea freely, and take a dose of it internally, morning, noon and night; it will not only cure the pain, but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia, and your food distresses your stomach after eating, take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal.

If you have a Cankered or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea, to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day.

If you have the Diarrhea, or a relaxed state of the bowels, take a dose of Pain Panacea, and they will soon be restored. If you have a painful swelling, bathe the parts freely, and you will soon relieve pain, and the swelling will be reduced.

If you have a severe tooth-ache, apply the Pain Panacea on a piece of cotton and bathe the gum at the same time; it will stop the pain instantly.

If you have a pain in the Breast, Side, Back or Kidneys, bathe parts affected morning and night; at the same time take a dose of the Panacea internally.

If a Mother has a caked breast, apply the Panacea as hot as it can be borne.

If you feel chilly or cold, as though you were going to have a fever, take a dose of Panacea.

If you have a wound, cut, or galls upon your horse, apply the Pain Panacea; it will take out all the inflammation and heal the sore in a short tim

The Rain.

We heard a dozen men complain,
When Wednesday it began to rain
Just as before, when it was dry,
They mourned a drought with many a sigh
And seemed most strangely to [illegible]
The Lord made water rather wet
If all men's prayers were heard together,
The world would have the [illegible] weather,
"My mill stands still—Oh Lord, give rain!
"My grain is down—oh Lord [illegible]
"My cornfield [illegible] —"Ah Susan's bonnet—
"Don't let a drop of water on it
"Oh, not to-day—our wedding [illegible]
"Hold up, ye clouds [illegible]
"The hens [illegible] the brood is [illegible]
"Ah, let it pour! my boat's aground!"
So, 'mid the murmurs of the world
The clouds like banners are unfurled,
The rains descend, the bow is hung

Sweet Spring and robins sing together,
And rain or shine, 'tis pleasant weather
The flowers [illegible]

The Surrender of Vicksburg.

The following details in regard to this grand result of the bravery of our troops, will be interesting to our readers

On Friday morning, the 3d, a flag of truce came into our lines. It was brought by two Confederate officers dressed in most festive attire. They proved to be Major General Bowen, late commandant at Grand Gulf, and a Virginia Colonel named Montgomery. They rode splendid animals, which were rather thin in flesh even for racers. The messengers were blindfolded and sent to Gen. Burbridge's tent, where for two hours they remained awaiting the return of Gen. Smith, who took their dispatch from Pemberton to General Grant. Their eyes were unbandaged after one hour, and they conversed freely with the Union officers. One of the messengers said iron had been thrown into the city in quantities sufficient to stock immense foundries, and leave enough left to build monuments for all citizens and soldiers who had fallen. When General Smith returned to General Burbridge, the two Confederate officers were again hoodwinked, and by an officer conducted to a safe point, from which they could enter their own lines. These messengers were well dressed, in uniforms of gray, and wore dashing, devil-may-care Zouave caps, and had but little gold lace upon their uniforms. They each had the golden star on the collar of their coats, designating their rank. Great curiosity of course was manifested among all officers and soldiers to learn the contents of Pemberton's dispatches. This was briefly gratified. The rebel General had seen fit to intimate that unnecessary effusion of blood and loss of precious lives might be prevented by a brief cessation of hostilities, during which time Commissioners might be appointed to agree upon the proper terms for a surrender of the city. He also intimated as a clincher, that he could hold the place for an indefinite period.

General Grant's reply was very brief. It set forth that Pemberton had it in his power at any moment to stop bloodshed. The Commissioners were altogether unnecessary, as the only stipulations he could accept were included in the terms "unconditional surrender." It concluded with a deserved tribute to the bravery and endurance of the rebel garrison, and said if they surrendered he could promise that all should be treated with the courtesy due prisoners of war.

The rebel messengers had not long been gone when Pemberton sent again, asking for a personal interview with Grant. It was promptly granted. At three P. M., on the same day, the conference took place in a fruit orchard, located about midway between the fronts of the two contending forces. The scene was witnessed by thousands of Federal and rebel soldiers, who for the first time in weeks showed themselves with impunity above the rifle pits, and yet during all those weeks they had been within five yards of each other. It was a remarkable scene. General Grant came slowly to the place of rendezvous, smoking his cigar, and apparently the only unexcited person in the vast assemblage. What the General felt within could only be imagined. His stoical face did not reveal a clue to it. As Pemberton and Grant drew near each other, both, as though involuntary, paused, perhaps waiting each the first word from the other. This slight embarrassment was brought to a close by Colonel Montgomery, who stepped forward and formally introduced the chieftains. They shook hands—Pemberton being apparently little disconcerted by the complacency of his opponent.

These men thus meeting after a long siege, in which they had been pitted against each other, had been Lieutenants together in the same company in many a hard-fought battle in Mexico, hence were previously known to each other. Seldom do such meetings occur outside of the field of romance. Pemberton's first remark was that he had been present when different fortresses surrendered to the Federal arms in the war with Mexico. In all these the enemy granted terms and conditions. He thought his army as well entitled to these favors as a foreign foe. General Grant listened, and then proposed a private conversation of a few moments. It struck Pemberton favorably, and the two Generals stepped aside.

What was said during that conference can only be judged from results. After little more than an hour terms were agreed upon and the Confederates surrendered. It was arranged that the Federal forces should enter at 10 A. M. next day—the 4th of July. The rebels were all to be paroled on the spot. The surrender of arms, etc., was to be made. Officers were to be allowed to retain their horses and four days' rations, to be taken from Confederate stores. This was certainly as much as General Grant could consent to. Prisoners to be liable to exchange. It was the policy, perhaps, not to subsist the rebels in such large numbers, or endeavor to transport them at once to the North. Our work is to pursue and punish, not to feed and fetch and carry.

The enemy, numbering from twenty to thirty thousand prisoners, by this arrangement fell into Grant's hands, along with the small arms, forts, defences, etc, of the garrison at Vicksburg. Cannon are plenty, and in quality equal to the best in the Southern Confederacy.

At 10 A. M. on the 4th—the glorious Fourth—as agreed, General Steele's division marched in and garrisoned the city, the band playing National airs. Every soldier's heart was too full for utterance, and the old Union emblems floated above the [illegible]. The flag was soon seen in its own beloved colors above the buildings where of late only rebel ensigns had met the breeze. Vicksburg was in loyal possession once more. Not long after the formal possession had been taken of the city, Colonel Markland made his entrance and took charge of the Post Office, and proceeded at once to establish Federal mail routes with the rest of the world.

HORRIBLE.—A correspondent of the Missouri Democrat, speaking of the arrest and bad treatment of a loyal lady named Cushman by the rebels at Shelbyville, Tenn., thus heaps up the agony:

Since Miss Cushman's arrest she has been treated by the rebel women in such a manner as one who has heard the rebels talk of Southern chivalry and honor would not expect. They robbed her of almost everything she had, taking breastpin, bracelets, dresses, collars, handkerchiefs, etc. They even took her last hoop skirt.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

BRIMFIELD MASS 20th Dec 1855

DR. J. C. AYER: I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold, is your CHERRY PECTORAL. Its constant use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints.

EBEN KNIGHT, M. D.

A. B. MORTLEY, Esq. of UTICA, N. Y., writes: "I have used your Pectoral myself and in my family ever since you invented it, and believe it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold I should sooner pay twenty-five dollars for it than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.

SPRINGFIELD, Miss., Feb. 7, 1856.

BROTHER AYER: I will cheerfully certify your Pectoral is the best remedy we possess for the cure of Whooping Cough, Croup, and the chest diseases of children. We of your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people.

HIRAM CONKLIN, M. D.

AMOS LEE, Esq., MONTEREY, IA., writes, 3d Jan., 1856: "I had a tedious Influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks; took many medicines without relief; finally tried your Pectoral by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs; less than one half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your remedies, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis.

WEST MANCHESTER, PA., Feb. 4, 1856.

SIR: Your CHERRY PECTORAL is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years.

HENRY L. PARKS, Mer't.

A. A. RAMSEY, M. D., ALBION, MONROE CO., IOWA, Sept 6, 1855: "During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your CHERRY PECTORAL for giving ease and relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial.

Consumption.

Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach; but even to those the CHERRY PECTORAL affords relief and comfort.

ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK CITY, March 5, 1856.

DOCTOR AYER, LOWELL: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your CHERRY PECTORAL has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dangerous symptoms of Consumption, from which no aid we could procure gave her much relief. She was steadily failing, until Dr. Strong, of this city, where we have come for advice, recommended a trial of your medicine. We bless his kindness, as we do your skill, for she has recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and calls herself well.

Yours, with gratitude and regard,
ORLANDO SHELBY, of SHELBYVILLE.

Consumptives do not despair till you have tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is made by one of the best medical chemists in the world, and its cures all around us bespeak the high merits of its virtues.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these PILLS have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines and that they win unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are, at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow-men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing directions for their use and certificates of their cures of the following complaints:—

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from a foul Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels and Pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Ulcerous and Cutaneous Diseases which require an evacuant Medicine, Scrofula or King's Evil. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with some other pill they make more profit on. Ask for AYER'S PILLS, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.
